How Medicare Supplement plans work with Original Medicare

Once you understand the different parts of Medicare and what they cover, it's easier to see how Medicare Supplement plans – also known as Medigap – can help.

  PART A + PART B	 PART C	 PART D	 MEDIGAP
Original Medicare	Medicare Advantage	Prescription Drug Coverage	Medicare Supplement plan
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A federal health insurance program for Americans aged 65 and over. • You may be eligible earlier if you have a disability or End-Stage Renal Disease. • Includes both Part A (which gives you hospital coverage) and Part B (your medical coverage). 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • An all-in-one alternative to Original Medicare Parts A and B. • Usually offers additional benefits not included in Parts A and B, such as prescription drug coverage (Part D). • Plan benefits may change annually, so you may need to shop for a plan on a yearly basis. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Helps pay for your prescription drugs. • Some Medicare Advantage plans include Part D coverage; if not included, it can be purchased separately. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Purchased in addition to Original Medicare. • Helps with many of the costs that Original Medicare doesn't pay, such as copays, coinsurance and deductibles. • Coverage that's guaranteed for life.* • Lets you see any provider that accepts Medicare patients – meaning no network limitations.
Typically, Medicare Part B only covers about 80% of your medical expenses.	Many plans restrict you to certain providers and may not cover unexpected expenses.	You can purchase a Part D plan along with a Medicare Supplement plan for more complete coverage.	A Medigap plan can help limit your out-of-pocket costs, which could add up quickly.

Fill the gaps of Medicare

The out-of-pocket costs not paid for by Original Medicare could add up to thousands of dollars a year. With the predictability of a Medicare Supplement plan, it'll be easier to plan your budget.

There are a variety of Medicare Supplement plans available, with Plan G being the most popular since it offers the most comprehensive benefits. Coinsurance and hospital costs are covered at 100%, and your only responsibility would be the annual Medicare Part B deductible.

Here's how Plan G could not paid by Original Medicare

What about Medicare Advantage?

You may have seen advertising for Medicare Advantage plans and for some people, it may be a good choice. It's important to remember that although a Medicare Advantage plan may have a $0 premium, it doesn't mean that the plan is free.

Here are the main differences between Medicare Advantage and Medicare Supplement plans

Medicare Advantage

With a Medicare Advantage plan, you still have to pay for many out-of-pocket costs, including copays, coinsurance and deductibles up to an out-of-pocket limit as high as $9,350.⁸

- Your benefits and rates may vary widely from year to year.
- You may have to use in-network doctors and hospitals.
- You might need referrals for specialists.

⁸$9,350 in 2025 for in-network and may be even higher for out-of-network services. There are Medicare Advantage plans that charge less. Your actual costs will depend on how much care you need.

Medicare Supplement plans

A Medicare Supplement plan helps keep you in control, since you don't need to find a new doctor, shop for a plan each year, or worry about annual benefit or network changes.

- More predictable medical costs and low copays.
- Choose your hospital and doctor as long as they accept Medicare patients.
- No referrals needed for specialists.
- Guaranteed coverage for life.*

Timing for enrollment

Around age 65, you have your Medicare Initial Enrollment Period (IEP). It is 7 months long and includes your 65th birthday month, the 3 months before and the 3 months after. This is the best time to enroll in Medicare Parts A and B, Medicare Advantage (Part C) or a Medicare Supplement plan.

Once enrolled in Medicare Part A and Part B, you can apply for a Medicare Supplement plan whenever is convenient for you.[^] The best time is during your six-month Medicare Supplement plan Open Enrollment Period (OEP), which starts the first day of the month in which you are both age 65 or older and enrolled in Part B.
